

SUICIDE-FOCUSED ASSESSMENT AND TREATMENT: AN UPDATE FOR PROFESSIONALS

October 25, 2023

11:30am-4:45pm ET

Free virtual session

Globally, suicide is the fourth leading cause of death in 15-29-year-old individuals. While most deaths by suicide occur in low- and middle-income countries, nearly 50,000 Americans die by suicide annually. To respond to this challenge, experts will present the latest advances in suicide-focused assessment and treatment.

This free workshop offers optional continuing education credits and is appropriate for those in the mental health, medical, nursing, social work, and counseling fields.

Upon completion, participants will be able to:

- Identify risk factors
- Assess suicide risk using different approaches
- Evaluate the latest treatments

Offered by McLean Hospital and the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Stanford University School of Medicine
